

Thematic issue call for papers from Organizacija

Guest Editors – Assis. Prof. Mirjana Kljajić Borštnar, PhD (University of Maribor) & Prof. Gerhard-Wilhelm Weber, PhD (Middle East Technical University, Turkey)

A thematic issue of the journal Organizacija invites authors of the SOR'15 (The 13th International Symposium on Operations Research in Slovenia, <http://sor15.fov.uni-mb.si/>) to submit extended version of SOR'15 papers or previously unpublished work related to the field. All the papers will be published under the journal's publishing standards.

Organizacija (Organization - Journal of Management, Information Systems and Human Resources) is an interdisciplinary journal that seeks both theoretical and practical papers devoted to managerial aspects of the subject matter indicated in the title. In this thematic issue we seek papers which contribute to development of theories and practical implementations of operational research methods for addressing complex organizational challenges.

The deadline for submission is 30/01/16. The thematic issue is scheduled to be published in August, 2016.

If papers have already been presented at SOR'15, the authors should change the title, the abstract and at least 30% of the paper text, so that the paper can be treated as a completely new paper.

Journal website: <http://organizacija.fov.uni-mb.si/> and <http://www.degruyter.com/view/j/orga>

Online submission system is available at the web address:

<http://organizacija.fov.uni-mb.si/index.php/organizacija/about/submissions#onlineSubmissions>

The initial submission will be reviewed by the Guest Editors and, if deemed suitable, then placed for double-blind review with experts in the field.
